Conclusion and Recommendations:

The participants without paper were happy by attending the seminar which gives them an opportunity to learn the various aspects of digital education. The academicians and research scholars got the opportunity to present their research work in a bigger platform, where they can inform the academicians and policy makers and society at large about their finds of the research and the issues and challenges. This is an immense help for the academicians, academic institutions, governments and society at large. So it should organize similar kind of programme for creating awareness and giving platform to young researchers, students express their researches and view. The session was ended by singing of National Anthem.
